

16. Wrong Item and Incorrect Quantity Policy

If a customer receives a product different from the ordered product, Nimbus Commerce treats the issue as a fulfillment error.

The customer should provide the order number and, where requested, a photo of the received item and shipping label. Nimbus Commerce may arrange a free reverse pickup and ship the correct product if available.

If the customer received fewer units than ordered, support should check whether the order was intentionally split into multiple shipments. If no second shipment exists, the missing quantity is treated as a fulfillment discrepancy.

Customers should not be charged return shipping for confirmed Nimbus Commerce fulfillment errors.
